

Peracetic Acid for Ethanol Production

Hydrite® Peracetic Acid (PAA)

Peracetic Acid (PAA) is an excellent antimicrobial agent due to the chemistry's high oxidizing potential, the effectiveness against a broad range of microorganisms in cold and warm temperatures, and the favorable environmental profile. PAA harnesses the power of oxidation for Clean-In-Place (CIP), sulfur removal, and infection prevention.

PAA is a popular and potent sanitizer used in the food and beverage industries to kill dangerous pathogens. It is also a trusted disinfection chemical applied to wastewaters discharged into sensitive waterways. Hydrite's PAA is produced in the Heartland and will benefit your operation in many ways.
