

Hydrite Helps: Clean Lakes Alliance

3 volunteers from the Hydrite Helps team from the Cottage Grove, WI facility collected 3 bags of seeds for Dane County Parks and the Clean Lakes Alliance over 9 hours. Hydrite is a proud member of the Yahara Society that works to support the Clean Lakes Alliance with building awareness to the issues surrounding the Yahara watershed as well as cleaning and protecting the waterways within it.

The seeds will be used to improve land around our watershed, including the future Platinum Prairie at Pheasant Branch Conservancy. When the seeds are planted, they will develop into deep-rooted plants which can help absorb stormwater runoff before it reaches our lakes. This is crucial to the protection of the lakes since, “just one pound of phosphorus reaching the lake system can create up to 500 pounds of wet algae!”
